GENERAL ASSUMPTIONS

Students
1. Size of core undergraduate student body is stabilizing, but the adult and graduate populations will continue growing at a moderate pace for the next several years.
2. The undergraduate population will stabilize at about 2400 residential students and 2400 commuter students.
3. The student body will continue to be of high quality and diverse along the dimensions of socioeconomic class, religion, ethnic identity, and national origin.
4. Although Lindenwood will remain a teaching institution offering both graduate and undergraduate programs, new interactive technologies will enlarge the teaching mission in the upcoming years.
5. The University will continue to provide opportunities for physical, intellectual, spiritual, and social experiences for all students.
6. The student retention rate will continue to be very high.
7. Student body will have a diverse composition: 60% from St. L. Metro area, 70% from Missouri, 20% from other U.S. states, 10% international.
8. Pricing of services will become a greater determinant of whether and where students choose to attend college.

Facilities
1. The University will aggressively develop the West Clay/First Capitol stretch.
2. The First Capitol expansion will include six new residence halls, which will absorb the residential space now provided by the LV trailer parks and housing off First Capitol, a new Campus center, and an Admissions building.
3. The University will build a Fine and Performing Arts Complex along West Clay.
4. The University will be physically responsible toward the St. Charles community.
5. Renovation and repair of existing facilities will continue to be a high priority.
6. The University will increase classroom space to accommodate the expanding student population.
7. The University will continue to develop and enhance physical facilities at the Boone campus and additional future extension campuses in the Missouri/Illinois region.
8. State-of-the-art technology will be installed in many of the classrooms.
9. The University will implement expanded electronic information access from campus residences.
10. The University will develop additional branch campuses in regional locations, in response to opportunities and callings that are consistent with its mission and purpose.

Personnel
1. The present administration will continue to adhere to the current, shared administrative model.
2. There will be only a minimal increase in the number of administrative and staff positions for the foreseeable future.
3. There will be limited growth in the number of faculty members who serve primarily undergraduate resident students.
4. The University will remain committed to its entrepreneurial foundation, and will continue to build a faculty that thrives in a goal-oriented, merit-based milieu.
Partnerships

1. The University will continue to develop and strengthen its community partnerships and community-oriented communication channels.
2. The University will continue to open and augment communication channels with students, alumni, faculty, staff, friends and supporters.
3. The University will take an active role in civic health and revitalization matters.
4. The University will continue to investigate and develop new articulation, certification, and degree-completion agreements with other organizations.

Community Involvement

1. The University will remain committed to the ideal and practice of encouraging and promoting student involvement in community service for the purpose of stimulating the development of altruism and a work ethic.
2. The University will remain vigilant and involved relative to community problems and their solutions.
3. The University will pursue promising new partnerships with businesses, organizations, and municipalities.
4. The University will continue to monitor and affect pertinent legislative initiatives at the local, state, and national levels.

Academic Programs

1. The University will continue to develop a comprehensive instructional technology.
2. The University will remain committed to the ideals of an independent liberal arts position, excellent teaching, student success, and development of the whole person.
3. The University will continue to diversify its academic programs, especially in the areas of corporate teaching opportunities, partnerships, and multi-disciplinary programs.
4. The University will develop an effective system to assess its effectiveness.
5. The University will adjust its programs and delivery systems in all academic divisions to accommodate anticipated growth in graduate and adult markets at all sites.

Student Support Services

1. The University will continue supporting various intercollegiate and intramural sports, and those activities will continue to involve a large proportion of our undergraduate students.
2. The University will develop a plan to expand Library electronic information access to students and faculty.
3. The University will augment its support services for the off-campus programs it is developing.
4. The University will continue to expand its computer facilities to meet the needs of its growing student populations.
5. The University will enhance its accommodation of students' social/developmental needs, with student government and student organizations taking the lead in these endeavors.

Administrative Services

1. The financial stability achieved in recent years will be maintained, no operating deficits will be incurred, endowment will increase, substantial money will be invested in plant maintenance, salaries will remain competitive, and both institutional and governmental financial aid will play a significant role in enabling qualified students to attend.
2. Fund-raising will continue to be a major activity of the University, and will be vital to its well-being.

FACILITIES

Updated Statement of Purpose

The facilities department has two primary roles. This department maintains the physical plant of the University so that the primary activity of educating students may take place in a clean, safe, and fully functional environment. The facilities department also seeks to continually improve the appearance and functionality of the physical plant to exceed the expectations of our customers and attract new ones.

Students Served

This department serves each of the university’s students. Residential students are served by providing and maintaining housing facilities, food service, telephone, mail room, keys, and emergency repair. All students are served by classroom, computer, and administrative facilities. This department also serves the faculty and staff.

Changes in Personnel and Facilities

The facilities department consists of 1 chief operations officer, 1 director (down from 2), 1 supervisor, 12 maintenance/construction workers, 1 groundskeeper [down from 4], 1 electrician, 1 plumber, and 7 housekeepers.

The Lindenwood University campus is comprised of 360 acres, 10 administrative structures, 12 dormitories, 75 mobile homes, 154 houses, 4 athletic facilities, and several other properties.
Land: 360 acres located in St. Charles City, and 700 acres in St. Charles County

Administrative and Classroom Buildings: Roemer Hall, Harmon Hall, Butler Hall, Butler Library, Young Science Hall, Memorial Arts Building, Admissions Tea Hole, Southern Air ( Wentzville), Lindenwood Cultural Center, and the Visitor Center (Former Commerce Bank)

Dormitories: Sibley Hall, Ayres Hall, Parker Hall, Cobbs Hall, Irwin Hall, Nicolls Hall, McCluer Hall, Blanton Hall, New Men’s Hall, Watson House, Eastlick, Stumberg

Mobile Homes: 75 mobile homes in LV2

Houses: Linden Terrace (89), Kingshighway Houses (3), Duchesne Houses (2), First Capitol Houses (60)

Athletic Facilities: Robert F. Hyland Performance Arena, Fitness Center, Hunter Stadium, Field House, Softball and Baseball Fields, Practice Soccer Field

Maintenance Facilities: West Clay maintenance building, First Capitol Drive facility, various storage garages around campus

Other: President’s House, Alumni House, Drive-in property, Frontage on First Capitol Drive, Lindenwood University Club, Daniel Boone Home and Village, McGregor house and acreage, Vehicle repair facility on West Clay

Changes in Assumptions
• All campus repairs are performed or contracted for with three goals in mind: quality work, cost effectiveness, and maintaining historical integrity of structure.
• Students’ needs are a priority, and all maintenance requests related to a student’s safety is a top priority.
• The existing buildings require ongoing repairs and continuous improvement to maintain our standards.

One-Year Action Plan for 2002-2003
• Continue assessment/repair of all roofs, to eliminate water problems (Mueller; 07/02)
• Continue assessment/implementation of tuck-pointing and sealing needs, to eliminate water problems (Mueller/Thomas; 07/02)
• Complete construction of Campus Center, to increase classroom space and provide a new dining hall (Mueller; 09/02)
• Construct temporary Cunningham connection and John Weber Drive extension to newly aligned First Capitol, to fulfill Lindenwood University’s contractual obligation with City and MODOT (Mueller; 10/02)
• Complete landscaping of newly aligned First Capitol, to fulfill Lindenwood University’s contractual obligation with City and MODOT (Mueller, 12/02)
• Begin construction of two new dormitories to be used as men’s residences. (Mueller, 7/02)
• Begin construction of new outdoor track facility/soccer field. (Mueller, 7/02)
• Begin construction of new “loop road” from Watson Street to First Capitol Drive, to provide access from newly aligned road through campus (Mueller; 05/02)
• Begin remodeling of Ayres Dining Hall to accommodate additional housing for male students. (Mueller, 9/02)

Changes in Five-Year Plan
(Additions)
• Complete construction of Campus Center
• Construction of new loop drive
• Completion of newly aligned First Capitol
• Construction of four additional dorms
• Propose renovation plans annually, minimizing cost whenever possible
• Construction of new track
• Construction of new Fine Arts Center

Future Direction
We will continue to perform routine maintenance on each building and system to extend the life of the facilities, ensure proper working conditions, and save resources.

One-Year Action Plan for 2002-2003
• Pursue pre-engineering outreach to rural areas in cooperation with UM-C
• Enhance cooperative programs with Boeing, MasterCard, and other area corporations
• Formalize a general articulation agreement with East Central College
• Strengthen and expand our partnership with the City of Wentzville, Missouri
• Seek partnerships with firms and organizations in Wentzville, O’Fallon, Washington (MO), and Belleville (IL)

Changes in Five-Year Plan
None

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

One-Year Action Plan for 2002-2003
• Make further progress on the First Capitol Project
• Implement partnerships with Boeing, MasterCard, and other companies in the region
• Increase community connectedness by increasing active membership in our Board of Overseers advisory groups and their involvement with Lindenwood’s program managers
• Continue the value and aesthetics of the St. Charles by adding more state-of-the-art buildings to the First Capitol/West Clay area — namely, by starting construction on two additional residence halls
• Continue to provide numerous sports, entertainment, and cultural events that are open to the public
• Continue to improve and beautify our campus by conducting regular maintenance operations, adding to the campus arboretum, and installing new gardens on our premises
• Continue to make quality day and evening academic programs available to the citizens of our community
• Continue to work directly with vital civic and social needs through systematically involving dozens of our employees and hundreds of our students in volunteer community service activities
• Continue our series of forums that address issues of government regulation and control in education, business, and industry — through the River’s Edge Institute and the Institute for the Study of Economics and the Environment

Education

Statement of Purpose
The Lindenwood University Education Division believes in a high-quality system of K-12 public education that is free and appropriate to all Missourians. We also value the diversity of opportunities provided through the existence of a strong network of private and parochial schools. A rigorous academic program that is practical in nature stresses content both during teacher preparation and when students assume their initial employment. The worth of every youngster is emphasized without regard to race, gender, or creed and that education is viewed as a means by which all children can progress to their highest level of opportunity. The underlying philosophy of the Education Division is to prepare teachers who know their subject matter and can teach their subject. Lindenwood University will continue to be recognized as the premier principal and teacher preparatory institution in Missouri.

Changes in Personnel and Facilities
Full-time faculty members: 13
Part-time faculty members: 55

The Education Division will continue to offer most of its classes in Roemer Hall. All of those classrooms have been upgraded and continue to serve us quite well. Technology continues to improve therefore allowing us to better role model for students as they go through the teacher education program. In summer of 2001, two state-of-the-art "eMINTS" classrooms were developed on the second floor of Roemer, funded by a grant from Southwestern Bell. Three full-time and three part-time Education faculty members have relocated their offices from Roemer Hall to the recently vacated Tea Hole building on Central Campus. That structure will also house our growing Educator’s Curriculum Library. The extended site program is now offered at over 23 off-campus locations. Some of these locations include Independence, Hannibal, Missouri Valley College, Riverview Gardens, Hazelwood, Ferguson-Florissant, Parkway, Rockwood (2 locations), Mehlville, Fox, Fort Zumwalt, Francis Howell, Wentzville (High School and Southern Aire locations) Northwest in House Springs, St. Louis City, Waynesville, Sullivan, and the Branson Area. All off-campus locations utilize classroom space at these various locations.

Changes in Assumptions
None

One-Year Action Plan for 2002-2003
• Continue to refine the assessment process, using PRAXIS II scores and student portfolios (using the new scoring guide), to improve teaching, learning, and compliance with NCA expectations (Boyle/ Education Division)
• Matriculate first class of students pursuing the education specialist degree, to meet a growing need for professional K-12 administrators (Team)
• Expand extended-site program by 2 sites, to increase service, the student census, and tuition revenues (Boyle/Doyle/Feely).
• Continue to move forward with our securing TEAC accreditation (Team)
• Systematize community-college recruiting by getting a recruiting plan and timeline from each program manager in the division, to augment the number of new students from Missouri and Illinois junior college districts (Boyle)
• Explore opportunities to take the Specialist Degree Program to other locations around the state (Doyle/Feely/Boyle)
• Systematize the recruitment of students to the Education Division by becoming more involved with the local FEA (Future Educators of America) chapters in the local area (Boyle)

Assessment
• Refine student assessment process, using PRAXIS scores, surveys from employers, cooperating teachers, and graduates, and student portfolios, to improve teaching, learning, and compliance with NCA expectations (Boyle; Education Division).
• Realign the curriculum for Physical Education to better meet the competencies of the PRAXIS II examination for this area (Boyle/Mulhern).

Changes in Five-Year Plan
• Incorporate more technology into Education course work
• Finalize full membership in TEAC
• New degree programs and certifications will be developed to address critical shortage areas
• Continue the expansion of the extended site throughout Missouri by taking other degree and certification programs to these locations
• Continue to use the assessment tools of PRAXIS scores, survey results, and student portfolios to improve the quality of teacher preparation
• Continue to explore the possibilities of distance learning
• Explore opportunities to take degree programs to other locations around the state
• Increase student enrollment according to the following projections

Future Directions

Continued growth to meet Demand: Lindenwood University will continue its significant growth well into the next century because of the job prospects for new teachers and administrators. Current projections indicate that as many as 5,000 classrooms will be staffed by less than qualified teachers in 2004. Therefore, school districts will continue to aggressively compete for capable, well-prepared, and committed individuals who choose education as a profession. Opportunities to serve practicing educators through graduate and professional development course work will continue to expand.
Geographical and Curricular Diversification: Because of the flexibility in delivery systems, practical curriculum, entrepreneurial spirit, the Education Division will continue to be the major provider of teacher preparation and administrative preparation programs to Missouri’s teachers and school districts. Long-range goals include:

- Convenient locations around the state
- Continued recognition as the premier program for teachers and administrators in Missouri
- Explore an International Teacher Preparation Program.
- Lindenwood University graduate course credit awarded to 80% of the teachers in the state.

Fine & Performing Arts and Communications

Update of Facilities and Personnel
Harmon Hall—painting studio, ceramics studio, photo studio, University teaching slide collection, fashion design studio, student ”black box” theatre, Hendren Gallery, Gallery 202, smart classroom, small dance studio, scene shop, prop and costume storage. Two rooms have been converted to large, high-tech classrooms.

LU Cultural Center—choir room, band room, class piano lab, class voice lab, general music practice rooms, organ practice rooms, concert hall, two small galleries, video editing suite, two Macintosh labs, printing and computer editing suite, video storage/repair/check-out suite, music library, smart classroom (in education building)

Studio East—large open warehouse space for teaching sculpture, 3-D design, 2-D design, drawing, figure drawing, printmaking, stained glass, a small gallery also used for a classroom

Roemer Hall—tidy up and refurbish costume design studio, costume storage, green room, dressing rooms, main theatre, box office

Robert F. Hyland Performance Arena—auxiliary gym used for dance studio, cheerleading and pom-pom line practices; main gym used twice per year for dance concert and jazz concert; upper promenade used for gallery

Changes in Assumptions
- None reported.
One-Year Action Plan for 2002-2003

- Institute new recruitment strategy with area high schools identified as feeder schools by inviting students and their teachers to art programs and events, to significantly increase the number of undergraduate and graduate students (Burke; 12/02)
- Establish Fine and Performing Arts scholarship competition with Mosaics, to increase the number of new recruits (Parker/Floyd 12/02)
- Move KCLC studios and faculty offices to Spellmann Center (Wall/Reighard/Niccolai 9/02)
- Make preliminary recommendation to President for new Cultural and Performing Arts Center (Parker 8/02)
- Produce CD, “Live at Lindenwood” to provide students with professional experience, and advertise LU and our programs (Henry/Carter/Parker; 11/02)
- Move Mac computer lab, video check-out equipment and faculty offices from LUCC to Spellmann Center (Ruebling/Barnard/Scholle 10/02)
- Create a Web page attachment for programs to increase advertising (Ruebling 5/03)
- Create new Art Program brochure, to enhance recruitment (Tillinger/Burke/Ruebling; 10/02)
- Add new Bachelor of Fine Arts in Music Performance degree, to increase student enrollment (Carter; 12/02)
- Install hot water heater and repair showers in Theatre dressing rooms (Myrda/Quiggins/Parker 12/02)

Human Services

New Statement of Purpose
The Lindenwood University Human Services Division serves to prepare students to be part of the United States Army, community service/non-profit organizations and corrections agencies. This Division exposes students to theoretical and pragmatic learning opportunities to prepare them to make immediate contributions in an employment setting.

Changes in Personnel and Facilities
The current Division of Human Services Faculty consists of:

The Human Service Division has its faculty located in Butler Hall.

Assumptions
- Lindenwood's area of expertise will be the personal education and personal attention of the student.
- Areas of employment within the Human Service Field that are growing rapidly include: case management, corrections, forensics, youth work, non-profit management, recreational management, geriatrics, commissioned military officers, and local, state and federal agency workers.
- According to the Occupational Outlook Handbook published by the U.S. Department of Labor Bureau of Labor Statistics, job opportunities for social and human service assistants are expected to be excellent, particularly for applicants with appropriate postsecondary education. The number of social and human service assistants is projected to grow much faster than the average for all occupations between 2000 and 2010—ranking among the most rapidly growing occupations in the nation.

One-year action plan for 2002-2003
- Develop a Human Service Advisory Board that will hold dual membership on Board of Overseers.
- Create a system for Program Managers within the Human Services Division to work within a collaborative interdisciplinary team setting.
- Increase student enrollments through referrals and local agency networks.
- Begin developmental phase of campus-based Boys & Girls Club that will serve as a laboratory school for future leaders in the non-profit sector.

Assessment:
- Complete assessment tools for undergraduate courses and the Division for accreditation requirements.
- Develop pre and post test for core course requirements. (MS 101, HSA 100, CJ 200, SW 110) to satisfy meaningful and useful assessment standards.

Five-Year Plan
- To develop areas of emphasis for Military Science in the Business Division and Criminal Justice Division.
- Increase membership of Human Service Advisory Board.

Humanities
Statement of Purpose
The Humanities are the heart of the liberal arts, offering a broad knowledge of literature, language, history, philosophy, and religion that fosters ethical maturity along with lifelong intellectual curiosity and independence. Our mission is to put each student in contact with the most significant thoughts and ideas that diverse cultures and epochs have produced. We encourage our students to develop a socially responsible worldview, as well as the critical thinking and problem-solving skills they will need in their future. We hold that clear, effective writing is not only a crucial skill in today’s world, but also the hallmark of an educated person.

Changes in Personnel and Facilities
Prior to the beginning of the 2002-2003, three new faculty members and one replacement faculty member were added. The replacement person was in the area of history, due to a resignation. Two of the three new professors were added to English and the third was added to history.

Butler Hall is home to the Humanities Division. All faculty members in the division are housed in Butler with one exception, who is housed in Young due to physical difficulty with steps. All faculty members have offices on the first, second, or third floors. In addition, the writing and foreign language labs are housed in and utilized by Humanities personnel. Tutoring services for English, history, foreign language, philosophy and religion are also available in the building as is the office for the newly created Lindenwood University publication.

• Continue to develop both qualitative and quantitative assessment tools for the religion program (Mason/Meyers; 6/03) ongoing
• Assess student knowledge of religion as a means of determining possible revisions to course materials (Meyers, Mason; 2002-2003) ongoing
• Encourage student use of the newly created religion tutoring room (religion faculty; 2002-2003) in progress
• Develop coursework for new CMS courses (Mason, Meyers, McAlpin; 2002-2003) ongoing
• Offer first course in CMS, Principles of Youth Ministry (Mason, McAlpin; fall 2002) in progress
• Research textbooks appropriate for use in CMS program (religion faculty; fall 2002) in progress
• Create resource materials listing possible career and graduate school options for religion majors (Meyers, Mason; fall 2002) in progress

Changes in Five-Year Plan
All Humanities Areas:
• Increase numbers of majors in all areas
• Increase faculty as need indicates
• Encourage cross-disciplinary learning with other divisions
• Improve library holdings
• Expand use of technology for all classes
• Continue to encourage critical thinking and writing skills in all courses
• Make Lindenwood University a leader in the rapidly growing area of electronic communication by providing students with the fundamentals needed to be competent and qualified writers and communicators and developing a new curriculum that will incorporate the latest in technology.
• Expand the current programs in American history, literature, religion and philosophy combining them with anticipated majors in historic site management, archival history, and historical science
• Offer a major in American Studies
• Offer a minor in Social Studies
• Offer a minor in Museum Studies

English:
• Track and contact alumni of the English program
• Contact and sponsor one visiting speaker each year
• Sponsor a networking event by which high school and college students may have a forum to read their work (Canale/Hurst/Heyn)
• Encourage students in other divisions to take writing and grammar courses
• Investigate reviving Sigma Tau Delta, an English Honor Society
• Investigate extending the offerings of graduate level English courses for area middle and high school teachers
• Make use of J-term travel to further study literature and writing

History:
• Investigate expanding the program in history to include a course in Latin American History and Culture
• Work with other academic divisions to establish a nationally recognized center for the study of values centered at the Daniel Boone Home which will incorporate both an undergraduate and graduate program designed to education both the traditional students and the business professional in applied ethics and values

Modern Languages:
• Offer evening and summer courses in modern languages
• Offer regular opportunities for conversational practice in all languages through development of clubs and language tables
• Entice students to study languages at Lindenwood University through offering of Foreign Language scholarship

Philosophy:
• Create additional courses as needed to include any or all of the following: Symbolic Logic, Aesthetics, Philosophy of Science, Metaphysics, Epistemology, Philosophy of Mind, Philosophy of Language, Ethics Seminar, Professional Ethics

Religion:
• In conjunction with the business and philosophy departments, develop course sections and study guides to emphasize the religious, moral, and values-based content of American Society. (These would not be new courses; they would, however, bring new emphasis to teaching values and morals as a part of LU's educational system.)
• Increase the amount of written work in religion course, and encourage students to face the critical issues in society and think rationally, morally, and critically about them.
• Investigate hiring an additional professor with expertise in religious studies outside of Christianity and the United States so that LU students might have the opportunity to have a broader education and learn more about religions and groups with whom they might deal in life and business.
• Add more religion courses that deal with the practical and personal aspects of religion in order to allow students to develop more fully their personal, spiritual, and religious understandings of life.
• Develop a 4-year plan for CMS coursework

Future Directions

The Humanities faculty is committed to excellence in teaching. Effective teaching methods are frequently discussed among colleagues in Division and Department meetings. New faculty are informally mentored by experienced faculty members as a means of ensuring top quality teaching. Faculty members review student evaluations each semester in order to make needed changes to courses in order to better meet the academic needs of their learners. Faculty in French, Spanish, English, and history offer out-of-class sessions to help students prepare for the C-Base and Praxis exams required by preservice teacher education students. Test review sessions held outside of class are common among division faculty members, and tutors are trained in the best methods for assisting students who experience difficulty with the coursework.

Expanded Partnership with the Education Division:

As stated previously, Humanities faculty members offer C-Base and Praxis review sessions and classes for pre-service teacher education students. In addition, history and English faculty members offer graduate level courses for area middle school and high school teachers through the Education Division. In the future, camps for area youth may be offered at the Boone Campus taught by education students who are mentored by Humanities faculty.

Emphasis on Writing:

Beginning in the fall 2002 semester, a new Lindenwood University publication will be produced by English faculty and Lindenwood students. This publication will serve the need of informing students of campus activities and accomplishments. Students will be able to earn credit either toward graduation or Work and Learn for their participation with this endeavor. In the future, it is the goal of the Division to offer editing and newswriting coursework for interested students.

Integration with the Boone Campus:
It is the goal of the history, English, and philosophy departments within the Humanities Division to offer additional coursework at the Boone Campus at both the undergraduate and graduate level. Summer opportunities for area youth are an additional possibility.

Creation of Additional Majors and Minors:
Within the next year, it is the goal of this division to offer a degree in American Studies and minors in social studies and museum studies. Appropriate coursework will be developed and offered.

Development of CMS Program:
Beginning in the fall 2002, coursework for the new CMS program (Christian Ministry Studies), with emphasis in Youth Ministry, will begin. Through this program, Lindenwood University will investigate options for working with a variety of religious denominations and churches as a means of providing educational opportunities to better equip students for the 21st century.

LCIE

Statement of Purpose
Given the likelihood that graduates will change not only their employment, but also their careers over their work life and that they will compete in an increasingly global marketplace, the College for Individualized Education, within the general curriculum, offers students opportunities to improve their communication skills, demonstrate workplace responsibility, use interpersonal skills, practice working within a team, and develop an appreciation of the importance of continuing growth and education with an emphasis on values-centered thinking. To this end, the LCIE Programs offer a structured, broad-brush approach in several career areas. Designed exclusively for the older adult student, using the Socratic method of teaching and a core requirement in the liberal arts, the overall purpose of the LCIE curriculum is the development of the student's analytical and communication skills, with emphasis placed upon both written and oral communication.

The LCIE offers ten undergraduate degree programs and eight graduate degree programs.

Our Counseling Department, within the LCIE, offers three graduate degree programs and four areas of certification.

Facilities
LCIE full-time faculty offices and the administrative office are located in the Lindenwood University Cultural Center.
Classes are taught at various locations, including the Culture Center, Main Campus, Westport Plaza, St. Anthony's Medical Center, in the cities of O'Fallon, Wentzville, Washington and several major corporations in the St. Louis and St. Charles metro area.

Changes in Facilities
A new computer lab was installed (late in May) in Room 109 of the Cultural Center. Previously occupied by the education division for office space, this room now features state-of-the-art computer technology with fifteen computers, having inter/intranet capabilities.

The networking computer lab, currently in Room 2E of the Cultural Center, will be moved to a larger room (Room 111) in the Cultural Center (approximately mid June) to accommodate the increasing enrollment in the Information Technology Degree Program.

The Faculty Advisor
The Faculty Advisor (FA) serves as a mentor and an academic resource for a group of no less than one hundred students. The FA handles both the procedural and the academic planning aspects of these students' programs. Besides interacting with the students, the FA teaches a cluster group, recruits new students and, in some cases, develops/manages academic programs, and recruits and supervises adjunct faculty. For the most part, the FA is the students' immediate contact with Lindenwood University. S/he helps the student plan and coordinate his/her program of study from entry through degree completion, providing a source of continuity to the student's ongoing academic experience and serving as the central unifying factor in the educational process. Only full-time faculty of Lindenwood University can become a Faculty Advisor in the LCIE.

* Number may increase/decrease according to student enrollment each term. The range is typically between 75 to 110 adjunct instructors per term.

Changes in Faculty
Suzanne Nordstrom joined the LCIE in October 01 as Director of Health Management/Gerontology Programs, Faculty Advisor and Instructor of Health and Gerontology courses.
John Manoogian joined the LCIE in June/02 as Director of Human Resource Management Programs, Faculty Advisor, and Instructor of Management and Training courses.

Assessment

Current Assessment:
Every LCIE undergraduate student completes a culminating project at the end of his/her degree program. LCIE graduate students may choose to complete a culminating project/thesis in the major or take a capstone course related to the major. The faculty advisors assess the culminating projects and the instructors give grades in the capstone courses. These results have been used to assess the majors that are offered in the LCIE.

Future Assessment:
Skills assessment inventories will be developed for all clusters. These will be based on quantitatively measurable objectives and will be administered by the instructors of the clusters. The information generated will identify strengths and weaknesses in specific skills and will be used in making revisions in content or teaching methods.

Counseling Programs Assessment:
Students in the counseling program have the option of completing a seven-hour exit examination (CPCE) that includes a choice of 2/3 written essay questions which cover the application of the eight core areas of the curriculum OR the successful completion of a five chapter quantitative research thesis and a portfolio (School Counseling Students) demonstrating mastery of certification competencies as designated by DESE.

Assumptions
- Lindenwood’s area of expertise and the LCIE Program’s differentiating factor will continue to be the personal attention offered in the one-on-one advising sessions with the older adult student in the program.
- LCIE will continue to promote the integration of the LCIE into the Lindenwood system of instruction and its values.
- LCIE will continue to be a leader in innovative educational delivery systems.
- A web site presence to provide information to prospective and continuing students that are searching this medium. This presence will be of high quality, but will not be our focus for processing student information and/or instruction.
- Areas of employment that are increasing continue to include, but are not limited to, information technology, health care administration, management, criminal justice, human resource management, corporate communication and the service industry.
- LCIE will continue to investigate the need for new programs serving adult students and will both add and delete programs as new occupations and community needs arise.
- LCIE will forge strengthened community linkages for recruiting opportunities.
- LCIE will offer colloquia with recognized presenters to serve not only LCIE students, but also the community as well.
• The future of Lindenwood University and LCIE, in particular, will be fulfilled in part by the growth of St Charles County and the continued expansion of off-site campus locations throughout St. Louis, St. Charles and within the corporate sector.
• The counseling program will continue to facilitate the development of competent reflective practitioners.
• The counseling program will continue to focus on providing quality teaching and advising.
• One full-time faculty will be added in 2002 to meet the growth in school counseling and develop a potential school psychology program.
• Enrollment in school counseling certification classes will continue to increase although overall enrollment will stabilize.
• The counseling program will continue to revise curriculum standards and competencies based on assessment results to provide a high quality degree program.
• The counseling program will continue to receive Graduate Assistant support as well as technical support.

Student Enrollment

Typically the Fall and Winter terms have the largest enrollment in the LCIE. Enrollment for both of these terms has been combined to offer an overall picture of enrollment during the academic year. Enrollment for the Fall/01 term and Winter/02 term is as follows:

The Management Division has most of its faculty located in the Memorial Arts Building. Faculty members located in MAB primarily teach in the undergraduate and/or traditional graduate management programs. MAB also houses one classroom and two computer labs used primarily for management classes/students. Management classes are also taught at various locations: including Westport, O'Fallon, Wentzville, Washington, and several area businesses.

Changes in Assumptions
(Additions)

- Lindenwood's area of expertise will continue to be the personal attention and personal education of the student.
- A web site presence will be necessary to transmit information to prospective students who are searching this medium. This presence will be of high quality, but will not be our focus for processing student information.
- Areas of employment within the business field that are growing rapidly include MIS, health care administration, sales, and the service industry.
- Business professionals have an increasing need for technology skills and quantitative skills.
- Lindenwood University’s future will be fueled by the growth of St. Charles, Lincoln and Warren Counties.
- The County’s rapid growth will increase the demand for graduate courses in public management.
- On-site management classes for adults in the 30+ age category are a major growth area for Lindenwood University.
- We are offering courses at more sites and will pursue Saturday classes.
One-Year Action Plan for 2002-2003

- Enhance outreach to community business organizations with the express purpose of recruiting undergraduate business and MBA students (05/31/03).
- Further develop adjunct instructors as student recruiters for both the graduate and undergraduate programs (Hardman, Otto, Arns, Ezvan, Morris, Schultz, Van Wassenhove, 11/30/02).
- Continue the recruitment focus on Community College college students via faculty linkages between Lindenwood and the Community Colleges, (Team; 05/31/03).
- Increase the Agribusiness recruiting efforts in conjunction with Admissions Services. (Hammond, and Wiedner; 5/31/03).
- Further develop the adjunct training program implemented this past academic year (Hardman 5/1/02).
- Implement two MBA course offerings on Saturdays in conjunction with a marketing effort to attract a new student market segment. (Hardman, Otto, Arns, (11/01/02).
- Conduct MBA special events evening at Lindenwood football games (Hardman, team; 11/30/02).
- Develop Advisory Panels for all “disciplines” within the Division (Hardman, Arns, Otto, Morris, Ezvan, VanWassenhove, Ellis, Schultz, Cernik).
- Enhance the involvement of the full-time and adjunct faculty in supporting student extra curricular activities, especially “clubs” affiliated with the Division of Management.
- Improve the integration of Finance, Accounting and Economics graduate and undergraduate courses in order to enhance individual program effectiveness (Morris, Waring, Felty, Najjar, Kamm, 10/31/02).
- Continue to improve the Lindenwood Web Site and the information immediately available to students (Van Wassenhove, 4/30/03).
- Develop a new concentration in Business Law utilizing existing courses (Hardman, Ellis, 12/31/02).
- Enhance coordination between the Retail Merchandising Program and the Fashion Design Programs (Schultz, 5/31/03).
- Infuse more “ethical issue” material throughout the curriculum of the Division.
- Initiate the Hospitality Management Program in conjunction with Forest Park Community College.

Five-Year Plan

- Expand the Public Issues Forum to include other services to the Business, Government, and Not for-Profit communities
- Target Winghaven for Lindenwood University to be the primary educational interface
- Continue to explore off campus possibilities for cluster and traditional course offerings
- Develop an evening undergraduate program in MIS and accounting
- Develop an MA in Sales
• Continue expanding the MIS course offerings to reflect growing field of study.
• Incorporate distance-learning courses where appropriate
• Develop standardization where appropriate for graduate level courses, including course syllabi and student assessment
• Develop a course for business appraisal
• Develop an adjunct orientation and training program
• Establish a Division tutoring center
• Explore the potential of a concentration in Tourism to augment the Hospitality Management Program

*No longer includes LCIE or Human Service Agency Management student enrollment.

Future Directions

Continued Excellence in Teaching: With more and more graduates excelling in areas that can be measured, i.e. the CPA exam and the LSAT test, develop a progressive benchmark for quality measurement. Strive for results, consistency, quality, and skills that will transfer to the workplace of tomorrow

Expansion of Graduate Programs: Continue to research and develop an Doctorate of Management to respond to the needs of potential students, and for the rapidly changing work environment

Partnership with Area Businesses: Continue to seek partnerships with area businesses for onsite educational programs
Changes in Personnel and Facilities

With the creation of the Human Services Division and the transfer of Criminal Justice and Social Work to that division, three faculty members have left the Sciences Division. A major remodeling of the Physics lab/classroom (Y306) is underway and will be completed in time for Fall classes. The new lab will contain lab tables and computers to permit students to carry out both hands on and virtual lab experiments. Several new types of laboratory equipment have also been ordered. An additional classroom (Y203) has been created as a result of the video control room moving to the first floor. Remodeling and upgrading of two existing classrooms will also be completed this summer.

Changes in Assumptions

Many students who would have majored in Computer Science will elect to major in our new Computer Information Systems program.

One-Year Action Plan for 2002-2003

- Expand contacts with area high school and community college science faculty to increase their awareness of Lindenwood’s science programs, thereby increasing quality and quantity of incoming science students (Abbott 12/02).
- Continue development of web pages for each program as recruiting tools for new students (Program Managers 12/02).
- Install “smart” technology in additional classrooms in Young Hall (Soda / Perantoni 8/02)
- Develop database to track graduates to monitor career placement and success in all majors (Program Managers 12/02).
- Develop plan to improve course offerings and internship opportunities in analytical chemistry to support increased recruiting efforts for students pursuing a B.A. in Chemistry (Saum / Pavelec 3/03).
- Establish collections of Native American and Colonial American artifacts for the Boone Home Museum display (Scupin 5/03).

Assessment

- Evaluate assessment options in Chemistry and implement most effective ones, to yield more meaningful and useful information, improve teaching and learning and satisfy the expectations of NCA (Saum/Pavelec 12/02)

Changes in Five-Year Plan

- Improve recruitment, retention and career success of biology and chemistry students with interest in professional and/or graduate school.
- Expand program offerings in Environmental Studies to increase enrollments.
- Remodel biology and chemistry laboratories in accordance with Young Hall master plan.
• Complete installation of “smart” technology in each classroom in Young Hall.
• Convert Y205 from a regularly scheduled computer classroom to an “on-call” computer classroom for use by science classes.
• Utilize database information on science graduates to revise existing programs and initiate new programs.
• Offer online science courses to meet needs of specific sets of current or potential students.
• Expand B.A. chemistry program to meet needs of employers requiring analytical chemists.
• Expand Forensics/Criminalistics minor for both Criminal Justice and Chemistry majors.
• Initiate new program(s) to prepare students for careers in computer-related fields.
• Establish additional articulation agreements with additional community college programs to increase enrollments in upper division science courses.
