Freshmen-Beware; The Hour Nears
When Mrs. Sibley's Ghost Walks

By Alice Vignocchi

On October 31st in the Lord's year of 1952 as the Boston Missis tot'man slip away over the hill a strange but fascinating ritual will begin to unfold over the hattu and calm Lindeneau campus.

This year, as in the past, Mrs. Sibley's ghost will ascend from her final home to enchant every girl with her orgin spirit.

The origin of Halloween is a story long told and one every istory tells in a different manner. The Irish story goes something like this:
Near the present site of Dublin on the sacred hill of Ward, a Druid priest kindled a fire on an altar made of stone. He raised his hands to the sky and, in many mysterious movements and dances offered sacrifice to Bal, the sun-god.
Long after the priest began his ritual, another hilltop fire took fire, then another, until all of Ireland had a spell of yellow light and weird dancing shadows.

So a legend, it was a night when evil was power was coming to destroy the they were the witches. The ghosts of that time could save from the harvested and carved in the of the earth's face, then blackened the teeth n the witches, hags and ghosts of the -until the Judgement Day, with Halloween comes a long way or man and is part of the unreal world and the source of its power, not even a foretelling witch could tell when it's going from here.

Bench Warmer Gives Advice On How To Be Hockey Player

Would you like to be the hockey player of the week? It requires a vast knowledge of various fancy plays and showmanship in public.
First sit on the bench so all of the fans can get a good look at you.

The Romans added the most impportant ingredient to the store of electronics and apples were the breadfruit of the in honor of Pomona, the goddess of fruit.
Add to this mixture the of the Teutonic tribes and you what we now know as Halloween.

Now that you are on the field, suggest to the captain that she let you bully the ball so that you can get a chance to warm up and so that you can knock the ball around for awhile. Get all of your in together in a hub-

MUSCLE BOUND

By Alice Vignocchi

The gals on the hockey team were happy to see all of the specators for their game with Harrilast Friday. The game was well-played by all on both teams.

Hockey schedule for the coming season:
October 24 — Lindeneau vs.
Washington U.
October 31 — Lindeneau vs.
Washington U. 8
November 8 — Lindeneau vs.
Washington U. there.
Washington U. is having a Sports Day
November 22 — Lindeneau vs.
Princeton University.

The games are played at the field and are held at in the tent on November 8 and 22, when Lindeneau plays Principal at 7.30 p.m., and Washington U. in St. Louis.

The competition at Drury College, which was held on October 11, was profitable to Nada Simon, Roberson, Toosie Steoerter, and Alice Vignocchi. After the differ-ten meetings our houses served a delicious lunch. At the , there was one girl from every college. Then, at another meeting where three teachers gave helpful hints for the next up and coming nter, after Drury bade a tea to end up a wonderful convention.

UNUSUAL HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE AT LC.

Very few colleges have a house in which girls can actually practice household management. See if it isn't nearly as charming as the Furnished in Early American able and cozy, as well as welcoming.

At present no Home Economics girls are entitled to live in the house. Five students are enrolled in the Home Management course which is a prerequisite. However, Juniors and Seniors who are to be ranked in the Home Economics course 310. If anyone is inter-then Miss Lindsay would be more than happy to tell her about it.

Four girls live in the house for an eight week period. They the duties—dishes, housewifery, ners and general managers—and rotate them each week.

The cook's job is perhaps the most time consuming as she must the house. She may well mber the one who he budget—does the actual and bookkeeping. Part of the requirement is to plan for e a limited cost budget and imum time budget. The est cost budget last year was 5.52 per person per meal.

Incidentally the textbook used in the Home Management course is

The Linden Leaves Are Whispering

By Sally Hossok

LOVE
DOVE
CUPID
STUPID

Yank Norton: "I am bothered in insomnia. How can I get in Masterpieces?"

Miss Ely: "Next time you feel drowsy just put your head on e of the chair and you'll soon

There are new duck walkers in the book store! They are guar-anted to get you anywhere fast.
These duck walkers have been test-by Diane Dickey, president of the Duck Lovers Association in Bible. Diane has found out that in making her nightly rounds she can reach her destination faster and more silently than ever, Prissy Lord, when asked what she ought of this wonderful invention, had but one comment to make—"They're for the ducks!" Missy Laux said she thought these new duck walkers were the greatest thing since sliced bread. She's University a medical school.

Miss Beale has been telling Miss Lichtler for the past few weeks quietly Butler has been this year.
The one night the whole dorm up, who should walk in but Miss Beale and Miss Lichtler!
Robbie Gibson, after her heart was remeasured, dashed down the front stairs with her earbuds and a big red apple in her mouth. "They'd never believe us now," she screamed.

Mr. Grandchaker has asked that if the student who stole the alcoin a glass jar from his office will return his missing items. No questions will be asked.

one written by our new dean, Dr.
Paula Nickell, and Jean Mair.

A interesting sidelight is that is one of the 11 girls who have in this year for the first time.
If you are all curious about living there, please do visit Miss Lindsay, who is director of Home Management Residence.